Join us for a pint, meet the authors, and check out some fresh new genre fiction.

From misty seawalls to far-flung worlds, Vanthology gathers original short fiction from the Vancouver Genre Writers community—tales that blur the borders between fantasy, science fiction, horror, and romance. These are stories of grit and grace, of found family, and of choices made in the liminal stillness between heartbeats.

We'll have copies of Vanthology for sale, alongside books from several participating authors.
